

CONFIDENTIAL PSYCHOLOGICAL REPORT

Name:

V [REDACTED] S [REDACTED]

Client Number:

0000-4034

Date of Birth:

25/07/1988

Evaluation Dates:

15/11/2020 – 17/11/2021

DOI:

10.4324/9781315725895

Report Date:

21/11/2021

Reason for Referral

The client had hitherto tendered consternation and unsteady solicitude on the subject of being on tenterhooks with regard to how their close familiarity with traumatic experiences has henceforth caused them to vacate vocations, suspend shielding substantive subsistence — which in turn gives vision to the cochleaic jeopardy infringed upon by this ostensible ailment — surreptitiously, and manifest this vital mortality as a state metaphysical to the self, but ultimately communicable by proxy. A predilection for investigation has brought the client to evoke this desire seeking andragogical counsel, given the endpoint is one of the reinstatement of some iota of a status quo, provided reasonable treatment is prescribed; havers are not prohibited. The qualms were opined to be a rigorous result of prior unfortunate incidents that have managed to maim the metaphorical epidermis of the subconscious mind, however, due to the lack of a procuration with respect to a higher form of refinement in psychology — be that a doctorate or Master's degree — the request of their behest was made to dispel the discontinuities in the comprehensive cognizance of the given situation.

Relevant Background Information

The client possesses an age of 33 years. Their upbringing and life initiation occurred in Clipningham, positioned in the United Kingdom. Another event worthy of meticulous note-taking is that of the night of 7 April, 2001. On this unfortunate night, the client, along with their immediate family, went through the motions of dolour, primarily stemming from being in a vehicular accident, which happened to be documented by CCTV footage. Additionally, it should be of note